

NEBOSH Diploma

Blended Learning

A combination of both classroom and e-learning

The NEBOSH National Diploma is the ideal qualification for ambitious health and safety professionals. Completing the Diploma with ACT will boost your career and make you stand out to potential employers.

Blended learning pairs the flexibility of e-learning with the face-to-face interaction and guidance provided by a classroom based taught course together with exam tutorial days.

Unlike many other training providers, ACT's NEBOSH Diploma e-learning course was created in-house by our own team of developers and consultants which means we have complete control and can make regular changes to improve your learning experience.
